Movie

Journey Through Masonic Serbia

As an important part of the society, Freemasonry has a long and colorful history in Serbia.

Some of the nation's best and brightest men have belonged to the Fraternity. Over the past three centuries, they have shaped the fate of the Balkan Peninsula guided by Masonic principles.

A 27-minute, limited-circulation movie produced by the Grand Lodge of Serbia will be screened, presenting the history of Freemasonry in the country.

Lecture

Monument to the Unknown Hero

Belgrade, Serbia's capital, is a vibrant metropolis of 1.65 million and a major economic hub of Southeast Europe.

It is also one of Europe's most ancient cities. Despite being battled over in 115 wars and razed to the ground 44 times in its millennia-long history, "White City" still keeps many secrets... some hidden from the profane in plain sight.

Together, we will explore the Masonic background of one of Belgrade's most iconic monuments.
